PALMA REJECTS LIBERALS' TERMS.

Government Will Not Agree to New Elections.

Decision of Cuban Officials is Irrevocable.

HAVANA, Sept. 25.—General Freyre Andrade, Speaker of the lower house, in conversation with a correspondent of the Associated Press today, made the following statement in behalf of the government officials:

"If the Americans wish to take our government and give it to the rebels, they may do so, but not with our consent. We shall never consent to the holding of new elections on any terms whatever. It would not only be a great injustice, but if the rebels won, Cuba would have the worst elements in control, and if the government won we would have another revolution on our hands."

General Andrade said that Vice President Mendez Capote had gone to confer with Secretary Taft, and to inform the latter that the Cuban government positively rejected the Liberals' proposition laid before President Palma by Mr. Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon last night. The general added that the decision of the government officials was irrevocable. President Palma would resign, Andrade said, if the step was suggested by the American officials, but he would never be a party to holding new elections. Furthermore, no members of the Moderate party would go to the polls if a new election is held in January as contemplated.

General Andrade spoke bitterly about the course the Liberals would take if they gained the government, especially with reference to their obtaining control of the government's armed forces. All these officers, he claimed, would undoubtedly be replaced by rebel partisans, including doubtless many negroes.

The general was then asked what would be his solution of the problem, and he replied:

"I see only one satisfactory way out of it, for the United States to take control of Cuba for one or two, or possibly, for years. The right kind of government here cannot survive now without such control. There must be a reconstruction period after the civil war. Yielding to the rebels now cannot bring contentment and reliability, and would only antagonize all the better elements, which, as it is well known, side with the Moderates."

PREPARING FOR EMERGENCY.

One Thousand Marines to Concentrate at Atlantic Coast Points.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The greatest efforts are being made to reinforce the American marines now in Cuban waters, and there has been almost continuous conferences for the last 24 hours between the chief of the navigation bureau and the commandant of marines, relative to the speedy transportation of this advance guard of the American forces which is to occupy the Cuban ports should the pending negotiations at Havana fail.

As a result of these conferences, to which Acting Secretary Newberry was a party, 1,000 extra marines were ordered to be assembled at once at Atlantic coast points preparatory to sailing for Havana. It was at first proposed that they should sail tomorrow, but it was found that they would probably be delayed about two days while the warships, which are to transport them, are being made ready.

The men will be concentrated chiefly at Norfolk, Va., and League Island, Pa. Probably all of the marines on the Atlantic coast stations will have to be

HEARST HISSED BY REPUBLICANS.

Chairman Driscoll Interrupted in Speech.

Contest Between Bruce and Hughes Expected.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 25.—The Republican delegates were early astir today, taking up the lines which were being followed last night, when the members of the "old guard" were trying to effect a combination which would bring about the nomination of Frank S. Black for governor. Ex-Governor Black had said that the only conceivable condition which would induce him to accept a nomination would be the unanimous demand of the delegates.

"If that is the case," remarked Senator Page, the chief lieutenant of Herbert Parsons of New York county, "Black will not be nominated. There are 150 votes in the New York delegation that will not be cast for Black."

A few men continue to talk about Secretary Elihu Root or Judge Hiscock, but the best judgment early today was that it would settle down to a contest between Lieutenant Governor Bruce and Charles E. Hughes.

Up-state leaders continue to urge Mr. Parsons to make everything harmonious by agreeing upon Bruce.

Mr. Parsons gives no assurances, but says that it may be just as well to try it out in the convention, and let the delegates decide whom they want. A hot contest may clarify the atmosphere is a remark that Parsons has made several times, when told that if Hughes was presented by means a fight, the outcome of which would be doubtful.

Some of the New York city delegates are in an embarrassing position. They are personal friends of Bruce and want to vote for him, but they say that Parsons is holding them for Hughes. Parsons has been offered the chairmanship of the committee on resolutions, but has declined it.

"Parsons will come in and Bruce will be nominated," said one of the Higgins leaders before noon.

Ex-Governor Black again set his foot upon the talk of his being a candidate. "No conditions which I can foresee," said he, "could induce me to accept a nomination. I do not want to be governor again."

The crowd gathered slowly at the convention hall and at 12 o'clock there was only a fair sprinkling of delegates present. A genuine ovation greeted the appearance of ex-Governor Black. Quickly following, entered ex-Governor Odell. As his burly figure and grizzled head were recognized, the convention broke into applause. The state chairman passed to the platform and stood looking out over the cheering audience, waiting for quiet. Finally, at 12:21, he rapped for order.

"I am directed by the state committee," said Mr. Odell, "unless there is a demand for the calling of the roll of delegates, to proceed with the committee's recommendation of your temporary chairman."

President Parsons of New York county gave notice of contest in the thirteenth New York district.

"I will inform the gentleman from New York," said Chairman Odell, quickly, "that if he desires to give notice of contest, he should send it to the desk."

"I hereby give such notice," said Mr. Parsons, coloring.

The roll-call being finished, Chairman Odell, in behalf of the state committee, presented the name of Representative Michael E. Driscoll of Syracuse to be temporary chairman of the convention. The proposal was adopted. Mr. Driscoll was escorted to the platform and spoke at some length.

APPEAL MADE FOR HARMONY.

Chairman Nixon Addresses Buffalo Convention.

New York Democrats Transact Routine Business.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 25.—The first session of the Democratic state convention was held this afternoon in convention hall. It lasted less than half an hour, and then an adjournment was taken until 11 a. m. tomorrow. Lewis Nixon acted as temporary presiding officer, and made a brief speech, which was in the main a plea for harmony.

The usual committees on permanent organization, resolutions and contested seats were appointed and then the convention adjourned until tomorrow.

The first session of the convention was expected to be brief and of a purely routine character. Not a third of the delegates and but a few hundred spectators were in their places at noon, the time set for opening the convention. Charles F. Murphy of Tammany hall received the first cheers of the convention as he entered the hall. It was 12:19 o'clock when Cord Meyer rapped for order, and offered in nomination Lewis Nixon of New York as temporary chairman. Mr. Nixon was elected without opposition.

Mr. Nixon in his speech declared a Democratic victory in the state, which he predicted would be a forerunner of a national Democratic victory. The platform of the state would, he said, be also a forerunner of the national platform. The entire theme of Mr. Nixon's speech was for the sinking of personalities, and the bringing together of all factions to present a united front. This done, he declared, the opportunity was ripe for the Democrats to win one of the old-time victories in the state.

In reading the roll of delegates, the district in which contests have been filed were merely noted by the words "contest" and left vacant until the committee on contested seats shall decide the various contests.

Resolutions were adopted providing for the usual committees. Timothy D. Sullivan was then recognized to make a motion to adjourn until 11 o'clock tomorrow, and his motion was seconded and carried. The convention was declared adjourned at 1:15 o'clock, having been in session just 21 minutes.

The Tammany delegates went into the Democratic state convention today and held a caucus, contrary to the usual custom. Tammany is generally regarded as holding the balance of power in the convention, and the postponement of the usual caucus and adoption of the unit rule is causing much comment.

Mr. Nixon's selection as chairman was welcome news to the Hearst supporters. He is warmly endorsed on all sides, however, and is now being mentioned as permanent chairman.

The Albany delegation announced this afternoon that it had voted to support William R. Hearst for governor. The delegation re-elected Patrick E. McCabe as state committeeman. Mr. McCabe is prominently mentioned as a candidate for the state chairmanship.

The candidates for the head of the ticket most generally spoken of are William Randolph Hearst, Justice William J. Gaynor of Brooklyn, District Attorney William Travers Jerome of New York, Congressman William Sulzer of New York and Mayor J. N. Adam of Buffalo.

The name of William Randolph Hearst will be the first presented to the Democratic convention tomorrow afternoon. Mr. Hearst's name will be placed before the convention by former Assemblyman William V. Cook of Albany.

JEROME WITHDRAWS.

Anti-Hearst Men to Agree Either on Gaynor or Adam.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 25.—District Attorney Jerome's candidacy for governor was practically withdrawn today at an adjourned meeting of the so-called Albany conference of anti-Hearst Democrats. At the meeting, which was attended by representatives from about 25 counties, it was decided that the delegates opposed to the nomination of William R. Hearst should concentrate on either Judge Gaynor of Brooklyn or Mayor Adam of Buffalo, as expediency may require.

Former Mayor Osborne said that an effort was being made to turn the democratic party over to the Independence league. He said they should concentrate on some candidate who can be voted for by all self-respecting Democrats and who might possibly defeat "this unholy alliance." He said that a majority of those present believed that Mayor Adam of this city could meet the situation, and he suggested that a committee be appointed to ascertain just where the delegates stand. In conclusion, Mr. Osborne said:

"I for one can assure you that as long as I have a voice on the floor of the convention, the nomination of William R. Hearst will never be made unanimous."

It was decided that the conference meet again tonight, when a choice between Judge Gaynor of Brooklyn and Mayor Adam of Buffalo will be made.

District Attorney Jerome, John N. Carlisle of Watertown, secretary of the Democratic state committee, and Mr. Osborne were appointed a committee to sound the delegates and report at the meeting tonight.

District Attorney Jerome would

ARMISTICE SIGNED.

Peace Terms Satisfactory to the Cuban Insurgents.

HAVANA, Sept. 24.—Victory for the Liberals, or revolutionary party, seems certain today at the conclusion of a long conference between a committee of the insurgents of eight members and the American peace commissioners. The insurgent committee announced that there were practically no differences remaining between them and Secretaries Taft and Bacon and that they would receive a draft of the peace plans tomorrow. These probably would be agreed to at a meeting to be held in the Presidio, where the prisoner members of the committee are confined.

Secretary Taft said he could give no details of what transpired at the conference, for the reason that it was now necessary to treat with the government leaders and that the publication of the peace proposals might interfere with their prompt acceptance.

An unsatisfactory conference was held at the palace tonight between President Palma, Secretary of the Treasury Fonts y Sterling, Secretary of State O'Farrill, Freyre Andrade, Speaker of the lower house; Secretary Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Bacon, Consul General Steinhardt and Captain McCoy, when the mediators called to the attention of the Cuban administration the status of the peace negotiations with the Liberals and insurgents. The conference adjourned at 11 o'clock tonight to be resumed tomorrow.

The peace terms proposed are known to be against the government, and the visit to the palace by the American commissioners was therefore not particularly pleasant. Upon departing, Secretary Taft announced that the conference had resulted only in an exchange of opinions and that another meeting was necessary.

There is a strong impression that President Palma will remain and reorganize the cabinet, but that new elections will be held for half the senators and representatives; in other words, those who were elected last year, and possibly also for provincial officers.

In discussing the situation, Secretary Taft said that tomorrow he would go over with Alfredo Zayas, the leader of the Liberals, the variations that the Liberal leaders desire in the memorandum of the peace program. "If we reach a conclusion," Secretary Taft said, "we hope to announce it tomorrow night."

Practically all the time of the conference was occupied by Secretary Taft's review of the situation. He warned the insurgent committee that the continued independence of Cuba depended upon their calmness, wisdom and discretion during the process of settlement.

Tonight Senor Zayas telegraphed to all the important commanders in the field that there were prospects that peace terms would be sighed and that the terms would be satisfactory to them. The immediate cessation of hostilities means everything. This winter's tobacco crop and the seed beds must be planted within a fortnight in order to insure a crop. Heavy rains are prevailing and the insurgents are inclined to seek the shelter of the armistice during the consultations of the peace negotiations.

Heretofore there was merely a verbal agreement without any definite terms, but a document was prepared and taken yesterday to the camps of Generals Guerra and Castillo and these chiefs attached their signatures to it. The document was signed today by Acting Secretary of the Interior Montalvo in behalf of the government.

Following is the text of Secretary Taft's armistice, as agreed upon absolutely by the insurgents and on one condition by the government officials:

"A truce or suspension of arms having been decreed by the president of Cuba and proclaimed to the forces of the Liberal party by their leaders, I, as intermediary, for the purpose of arranging a permanent peace, have the honor to request the opposing parties to specifically agree during the truce to refrain from all acts of hostility and to desist from all military operations of a hostile character and all preparatory movements or manoeuvres which would have been performed under the fire of the opposing party.

"1—No movements of troops shall take place on either side without a notification to the opposing authorities, viz.: The secretary of the Interior of Cuba, Alfredo Zayas, representing the Liberal party, and the American peace commission.

"2—This peace shall be effective throughout Cuba.

"3—If either party violates any of the expressed conditions, the opposing party shall not take hostile action until after a complaint notification to the peace commission.

"4—Hostilities shall not be resumed for at least 24 hours after notification to the peace commission.

"It is required that acceptance of these conditions be made in writing to me.

"Very respectfully,
"William H. Taft,
"Secretary of War of the United States."

The condition which Acting Secretary of State Montalvo made to signing the document was that he should notify Secretary Taft instead of Senator Zayas (president of the Liberal party) if the government desired to move troops.

POLICEMEN ATTACKED.

Two Killed and Another Dying, in South Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 24.—Three mounted county policemen, who with others were riding along their beat in South Atlanta, near Clark University, a well known negro college, were ambushed from an alley tonight, with the result that Policeman Heard and another officer were killed and the third officer was fatally shot. Still another officer is reported missing. A squad of militiamen with the police are pursuing the negroes into the woods. The casualties on the other side are not known.

At Howell's station, three miles west of the centre of the city, the railroad telegraph operator has been killed and another man in the same office either has been killed or wounded by negroes.

The city marshal of Edgewood was shot, but not seriously hurt, while trying to arrest a negro late today. There are many other rumors of killings by negroes, but they lack confirmation.

The authorities feel so confident today that they have the situation well in hand that an order was issued dismissing five companies of state militia ordered here yesterday. Twelve companies of military with the city and the county police of 300 men remained on guard, patrolling the streets of the entire city tonight.

The saloons have been closed all day and will remain closed until further orders. The city schools opened this morning, and with an attendance almost normal. Some white pupils of the State Street school were stoned, but a squad of police gave them protection. Police have been stationed at each of the schools.

Orders also were issued today prohibiting the sale of firearms and ammunition without the written order of the military authorities. As a matter of fact these stocks were practically exhausted Saturday night.

In the city police court today Judge Broyles inflicted the extreme sentence of the law on six young white men charged with inciting to riot, giving them 30 days in jail and binding them over to the higher courts under $1,000 bonds.

In anticipation of possible further trouble Mayor Woodward today issued an order that all boys under 21 years of age must keep off the streets after 8 o'clock at night. He has also asked all citizens to remain in their homes at night until the present troubles have passed.

Although the day has been quiet in the down-town districts there have been a number of disturbances in the outlying sections. A squad of Macon militiamen on duty in a negro settlement last night surprised and dispersed a company of negroes drilling on a back street.

A gang of negro boys 15 to 18 years old, beat a young white boy this afternoon until he took refuge in a house. The young negroes said in explanation: "They would get even." Many negroes have left the city.

DEATH RESULT OF BOXING BOUT

Jack McKenzie Succumbs to Blow in Match with Terry Martin.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 24.—A boxing match at the Portland Auditorium this evening between Terry Martin and Jack McKenzie, both of Philadelphia, came to a sudden termination in the fifth round with the collapse of McKenzie and his death 10 minutes later. Just before the close of the second round Martin delivered a stiff uppercut which struck McKenzie over the heart and then glanced to his jaw. McKenzie staggered back, but immediately recovered and returned two blows before the gong rang.

He went back to his corner, but, while his seconds were administering the usual restoratives, he suddenly became unconscious, and died soon after in the dressing room.

Martin and his brother, who acted as his second; Steve Mahoney of Boston, McKenzie's manager; Jack Sheehan of Boston, the referee, and John Cantley, manager of the contest, went to the police station immediately after McKenzie's death and remained there to await the action of County Attorney C. W. Eaton.

McKenzie, who is 26 years old, leaves a widow and child in Philadelphia. Martin is one of the best known welterweight fighters in the country.

Martin was scheduled to fight Herman Miller of Baltimore, but the latter did not appear and the management induced McKenzie to go into the ring in his place. McKenzie, not expecting to take part in any boxing contest, had not observed any training regulations and was in rather poor physical condition. Martin had the better of the contest, but McKenzie seemed able to stand up under the heavy blows of his antagonist.

CELEBRATED IN KANSAS CITY.

Renewal of Steamboat Traffic on the Missouri After a Decade.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 24.—With the blowing of whistles, the clanging of bells and the cheering of thousands of persons who had gathered at the river shore, the renewal of steamboat traffic on the Missouri river, after a lapse of more than a decade, was celebrated today, when steamer Lora, laden with freight from St. Louis, docked at the wharf in this city. The movement to establish a boat line on the Missouri river grew out of the fight of Kansas City merchants for reduced freight rates.

Commercial Relations Agreement Between Bulgaria and United States.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Acting Secretary of State Adee today received advices from Minister Jackson, in Bulgaria, that he had concluded a commercial relations agreement with Bulgaria under article 3 of the Dingley tariff act. The agreement will become effective September 30. The arrangement concluded is similar to that entered into between the United States and Spain. Bulgaria has two tariffs, a maximum and a minimum. The United States now enjoys the benefit of the minimum Bulgarian tariff.

Don't paint at all 'till you're sure you've got good paint. You can't undo the damage caused by poor paint after it's on the the house! Know the paint you use. Find out something about the manufacturer before you trust his paint.

The Sherwin-Williams Company have been making good paint for over thirty years. They started with a very small building, in a small way. Today they are the largest paint and varnish manufacturers in the world. Their business has been built upon good paint reputation. You'll be safe in using their paint.

GYPSUM WATER PAINT—This paint is prepared to meet the demand for a cheap, durable and decorative wall coating. It is superior to whitewash and kalsomine and better than the cheaper grades of oil paint. One gallon can 60 cents. 5 gallon keg $2.75.

THE PECKHAM COMPANY.

House Painting.

To the Householder that insists on painting his house with Lead & Oil. That is what COLONIAL PAINT is made of, with the addition of a little Zinc, which all first-class painters say makes the Paint last longer. Read the following report from the Rhode Island State Chemist:

Laboratory of
EDWIN E. CALDER, A. M.,
Analytical, Consulting and Technical Chemist.
Providence, R. I.

I have made a careful analysis of a sample paint marked "The Colonial Paint, O. W." and make the following report: I find the sample to be a well ground mixture of White Lead, Zinc, Oxide, Linseed Oil and Dryer. The composition of the pigment may be expressed as follows:

WHITE LEAD 58.60 per cent
ZINC OXIDE 42.60 per cent.

Respectfully yours, EDWIN E. CALDER.

We claim COLONIAL PAINT to be superior to Lead and Oil, mixed by hand, as it is mixed by the latest Improved Machinery thereby amalgamating all of the different ingredients with a smoother pigment that will cover more surface, look better and last longer. We can refer you to a large number of satisfied customers whose unanimous opinion is "the best paint I ever used."

HIGGINS OFFERED NOMINATION.

Asked to Head State Democratic Ticket—Parks Republican Candidate for Mayor of Providence.

A formal tender of the Democratic nomination for governor to Mayor James H. Higgins of Pawtucket and an unofficial offer of the Republican mayoralty candidacy in Providence to Councilman George W. Parks of the First ward were the two important political developments in the state and city campaigns yesterday.

The honor of bearing the standard of Democracy through the coming campaign at the head of the state ticket was unanimously offered to Mayor Higgins at the joint meeting of the Democratic state executive committee and the Democratic campaign committee, held yesterday afternoon. The action was the unanimous expression of the members of the two committees present. As one of the main purposes for which it was called was to formally present the matter to Mayor Higgins in order that he might give it official and intelligent consideration, it is the natural inference that the course taken was backed up by the full sanction of the absent members of the two committees, and that the gratuitous offer of the head of the state ticket represents the sentiment of practically the entire Democratic organization. Mayor Higgins, who was present at the meeting, did not return a decisive answer to the proffer of the gubernatorial nomination.

It was learned last evening that some of the Republican leaders in Providence who are sounding available candidates for the mayoralty, and ascertaining their willingness to stand if nominated and serve if elected, called upon Councilman George W. Parks yesterday and unofficially broached the matter of his becoming the party candidate. While it is not understood that Councilman Parks's answer would have determined the matter, even if it had been favorable, it is currently reported that Mr. Parks did not give his interviewer a definite reply. It is expected that he will consider the matter and later make known his decision.

Mr. Parks has served the First ward in the common council since the year 1901 and is still in office. He was commissioner of sinking funds from March 28, 1901, to January 1, 1904. He at present holds the important and responsible position of chairman of the joint standing committee on finance of the city council.

TO WITNESS TARGET PRACTICE.

President Roosevelt to be Present at Opening Day of Operations of the Atlantic Fleet.

President Roosevelt next Saturday will be present at the opening day of the annual target practice of the Atlantic fleet. The Mayflower will take him from his summer home in Oyster Bay, and proceed to Provincetown, arriving either Friday evening or early Saturday morning, and the practice will begin in the forenoon. The President will remain with the fleet on Saturday and return to Oyster Bay the day following. These are the arrangements so far as they have been made by the Navy Department, but they are subject to change at the wish of the President.

It is not known in Providence who will accompany the President, but it is deemed likely that some of the members of his family will be on the Mayflower, as well as a number of naval officers not attached to the fleet.

The spectacle off the Massachusetts coast, naval officers say, will in some features greatly excel the naval review held recently in Oyster Bay. The number of ships will be less, but they will wear a more warlike aspect and the shots which will be fired will not be light saluting charges from six-pounders, but shells from calibres ranging downward from 12-inch rifles to automatic guns.

This is not, however, the first time Mr. Roosevelt has witnessed target practice. Naval officers recall the time he appeared on board the Iowa when he was Assistant Secretary of the Navy. The North Atlantic fleet was then at target practice off Hampton Roads, and the Assistant Secretary visited each ship as it fired.

A discussion arose among the officers of one of the ships whether it would be possible to fire all the guns as nearly in a broadside as they could be trained without causing the ship to turn turtle. Suddenly the Assistant Secretary ordered impetuously: "Try it and find out." The trial was made, and although the ship listed to a nerve testing angle she immediately righted.

AT THE BROCKTON FAIR.

The Brockton Fair has been termed a round of pleasant education—a cycle of high-class entertainment. The horse show, the stage show, the music, the cattle, the poultry, the art and crafts exhibit, the athletic meet—to say nothing of the mid-way—furnish a menu to satisfy amusement seekers. Knabenshue and his aerodrome will be on hand and he says he'll fly. There will be plenty of room for the automobilists this year and they will have a corner of the grounds for their own use.

PERSONALS.

....Madame Humbert, the great French swindler, has just been released from prison at Rennes. Her brother and husband are also free.

....Joseph Chamberlain goes to the same church in Birmingham, England, in which as a youth he taught a Sunday School class. It is known as the Church of the Messiah, and Mr. Chamberlain sits in the central aisle. He has in the pew a Greek Testament which he uses when the lessons are read.

....Frederick Braun, the world's authority on crinoids, has been working for several months near Crawfordville, Ind., finding some rare specimens. Crinoids, or sea lilies, are the remains of prehistoric animals, and to produce them requires thousands of years and a complete change in the earth's topography. He has the finest collection in the world at his Brooklyn home.

....The Paris Temps says it learns from an absolutely unquestionable source that the latest consultations of medical advisers of the Sultan of Turkey established the fact that Abdul Hamid was suffering from cancer of the kidney. This malady, the paper says, does not permit of an operation being performed, and is usually fatal within a year.

....Rev. Dr. James Mudge has said about Sir William McGregor, governor of Newfoundland: "He is absolutely without pretension or ostentation, a man of very high character, wide learning and earnest religion. He has been governor in New Guinea, Fiji and Lagos, and everywhere a most cordial promoter of missions. In the extended interview which I was privileged to have with him he heartily praised missionaries, the Methodist ones especially, putting them above all others. The murder of James Chalmers in New Guinea, he assured me, would never have occurred had he been still governor there at the time. It is men like this truly noble Scotch Presbyterian, going faithfully to the kirk each Sunday, caring not for cathedrals or formalities, who make England's colonies to prosper."

SUMMER DAYS ARE O'ER.

[New York Sun.]

The tansy bed is withering,
The slippery "elum" bark
Sticks tighter than a burdock to
A dog's tail in the dark;
The cricket's cuddling closer to
The oven'step than before—
The leaves are getting raspy, and
The summer days are o'er.

The tabby's fur is growing thick,
The woodpile's growing, too;
The cellar bins are groaning with
The store that's good to view;
The cattails clatter in the sedge;
The wild geese sails before
The night wind; trouting season's done—
The summer days are o'er.

The silver mist arises from
The river flats below;
The fox fires glimmer in the swamp
With pallid, ghostly glow;
The small boy hustles through the corn
With 'lowser to the fore:
The nights are fit for cooning, and
The summer days are o'er.

ARIZONA AND NEW MEXICO.

No explanation has ever been offered of the determined effort in the last of the determined effort in the last Congress to force Arizona and New Mexico into union, except the one offered by Mr. Payne on the floor of the House, that the admission of states is always a political matter—that is to say, a partisan matter—and that two Democratic Senators are better than four. But as the President has always been esteemed a man of much political independence and has had much to say about the duty of giving everybody a square deal, this does not satisfactorily explain the efforts which he made during the session to force the merger bill through Congress and his letter to a friend in Arizona, since the adjournment, urging that that territory vote for union with New Mexico and predicting that it will will be long before it ever has another chance to enter the Union.

It is true that neither territory has a large population, but each has more inhabitants by a wide margin than some other territories have had when admitted within the past few years. They are not receiving a square deal if we consider the admission of Wyoming and Idaho and Montana and Washington.

The two-state bill, involving the union of Arizona and New Mexico, was engineered in great part by a man known in Pennsylvania as "Bull" Andrews, formerly a henchman of Senator Quay, who is the present delegate from New Mexico and aspires to a Senatorship, and to that is due the late Senator Quay's active work in the interest of the merger scheme. Andrews had a lot of buttons made with the portrait of the President and the legend "Vote for Joint Statehood," and sent them to all the Rough Riders in Arizona. He has been receiving indignant letters from them, refusing to support the merger, even to please the President. Both parties in Arizona are opposed to merger with New Mexico, whose larger population, mostly Mexican, would out-vote the people of Arizona. But apart from this difference of population, the instinct of political identity is strong and Arizona is pretty certain to refuse to give up an independent political existence which it has enjoyed more than 10 years.

CHOOSING A COLLEGE.

There seem to be no geographical boundary lines in the attendance of students at American colleges. Of course every college draws more heavily from its own section and its own state than from a distance, but no such institution is limited in its students to the part of the country in which it is located, but attracts from far and wide those who seek higher education and hope to find it to a degree within the doors of the particular college they have selected. Because of this fact it is found that every advanced educational institution has students enrolled from all parts of the country, and that young men and young women pass by the nearest college and go far afield for the fountain of learning from which they chose to drink during the four years which they are to devote to the absorption of knowledge from a college curriculum.

Of course there are many different matters which control the selection of a university. Sometimes it is athletics, sometimes the fact that others of the same family attended a particular institution years before, sometimes the advantage of a good home with friends or relatives. There may be a thousand and one things to all in the choice, but not always the most important apparently from the view-point of those who make the selections is proximity, though this feature does affect some. So it comes to pass that students from the East find their way to colleges in the West, while young men and young women flock to the East from the West. The South contributes largely to the lists of college men and women in the North and some Northern youth seek the South for their education.

There is wisdom and advantage in this wide distribution of college students, far aside from all other considerations born of sentiment or associations, the leaving of home and the seeking of higher education amid new scenes and changed surroundings helps materially in the process of development and approach to maturity. A change of location and an introduction to a new manner of life and a new atmosphere is generally a decided advantage, especially during the formative period, when the mind is under training. The passing by of the home college and the choice of one farther distant is therefore a sort of natural process which in most cases is no detriment, but rather a positive benefit, to the student.

A writer in Success has collected an interesting and in a way valuable set of statistics upon this subject of geographical distribution of college students, showing how far many stray in their search for higher education and how curiously the lines of distribution cross and re-cross from one end of the country to the other. From these figures it is seen that comparatively few stay at home when the time comes to choose a college, but most of those about to enter a university, consciously or unconsciously, find it to their advantage to begin the academic life far from home rather than close at hand. The travel and the introduction to a new life form a part of the scheme of education, and in their way are as valuable as the things which are learned from books and lectures within the college walls.

THE ICE SUPPLIES.

In view of the repeated alarms over an ice shortage, it is interesting to learn that a fleet of nine schooners laden with Maine ice has reached New York and removed the apprehension created by a shortage one day last week, and that other ice-laden vessels are following this fleet, or are ready to follow it, and in the opinion of officers of the ice company there is no longer danger of a famine.

If the ice was in Maine, why was it not shipped until the metropolis was almost out of the commodity? The American Ice Company is a combination of companies in several cities, controlling most of the facilities in Maine for cutting, storing and shipping ice. As soon as the combination was formed the cutting of ice in Maine began to be reduced, until last winter it was about a quarter of what it was before the combination. As this combination had suppressed most of the competition, it was no longer necessary for it to cut large quantities of ice. If the supply were short it could advance its figures. The supply this past season has been short—relatively. The reason for this was that the combination had reduced the cut in Maine. It had all the ice it needed, but not all the ice it could sell at low figures. By shipping the ice in small quantities it has kept the great cities whose trade it controls in continued apprehension of a famine, an actual shortage being allowed to occur occasionally. But its supplies have never given out.

The explanation of the company of course is that it was obliged to be careful of its supplies, which were less than usual, lest they should be exhausted. But the fact that the supplies were less than usual was due entirely to the combination of ice companies and their policy of restricting the cutting. They had plenty of ice to supply as fast as the cities would take it at high prices, but were careful not to ship enough to afford an abundance anywhere. It looks like a typical case of a combination in restraint of trade.

THE BATTLESHIP COLLISION.

The eyes of the entire navy will be upon the court-martial which convenes at Provincetown today. It is expected that the evidence which will be offered will be more far-reaching than simply that which may tend to show that some officers have displayed poor judgment or actually neglected their duty, and thus permitted two battleships to graze each other in a fog. Possibly the court may have something to say in regard to the regulations which provide for certain signals, speed and distances under such conditions as existed off here on the morning of the collision. Then, too, the board can hardly overlook the fact that inexperienced officers are left practically to command of these ships for hours at a time while cruising. At one time it was the custom of the Navy Department in ordering an officer to a ship to assign him to a specific duty. This is done now to some extent, but in case of the assignment of a midshipman to a vessel which is short of officers, and where it is known that the young man must of necessity perform the important duties of officer of the deck, the department shifts the responsibility, sending the midshipman and leaving it to the captain to detail him to the duty which he is in fact sent to the ship to perform.

The Democratic leaders of Rhode Island have turned to ex-Mayor Higgins of Pawtucket as their Moses for the state campaign this fall. He has not yet signified his willingness to undertake the contest against Governor Utter, but the leaders hope to be able to persuade him to accept. It is said that if Higgins declines to take up the fight the nomination will fall upon ex-Governor Garvin.

Governor Higgins's declination to be the Republican candidate for governor in New York again has left the Saratoga convention all at sea as to its nominee. With the old-time leaders out of the convention, the new men find they have a serious problem on their hands to select a ticket which will stand a show of being elected.

It looks as though Hearst and his followers have the control in the New York Democratic convention and that the Congressman will be made the nominee of the party, in spite of the efforts of Mayor McClellan and other conservative Democrats.

The news from Cuba is today of a more peaceful nature and better things are promised. Secretary Taft is confident that his peace negotiations will succeed.

OPENING OF THE STATE COLLEGE.

The fall term at the Rhode Island College has opened satisfactorily and the class work is progressing smoothly. Faculty and students have already settled down to routine duties. The enrollment of the Freshmen class is the largest in the history of the institution, and with the return of the members of the upper classes all the rooms in the dormitories and many in the homes of the villagers have been occupied. The proportion of preparatory students has decreased 30 per cent, while the total enrollment of the college is larger than at any time in the last institutional year.

Repairs and improvements on the buildings and grounds have greatly enhanced the appearance of the institution. The new greenhouses are rapidly approaching completion and in two weeks they will be ready for use. They will allow the college to offer a quality of horticultural course never before attempted. Mr. Schaefer, the new instructor and curator of the greenhouses, is busy fitting up the buildings, which are to be stocked with carefully selected plants.

Mr. Schaefer comes from the plant industry department of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, where he made special study and successfully conducted field operations covering diseases of plants. Prior to that experience he attended the Michigan Agricultural College, where he specialized in horticulture. He had also had wide experience in connection with greenhouses at Madison and Morristown, N. J. He had also had practical experience in the erection and equipping of greenhouses under O. O. Simmonds, the Chicago landscape gardener.

ITALIAN COMPOSER INSURED FOR $100,000.

Leoncavallo, the Italian composer, was insured against accident and death by Cort & Kronberg, managers of his forthcoming American tour, to the extent of $100,000, when he left Milan for Cherbourg, to board Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse for New York.

Upon a venture as large as the bringing of Leoncavallo and La Scala orchestra to the United States the risk is very great. Before the maestro sailed he was given $10,000 by Cort & Kronberg, and round trip tickets for the 75 musicians in the orchestra were purchased. The cost of these was $8,875. By terms of the policy the managers are to receive $2,000 for each concert that may be canceled through illness or accident to Leoncavallo. As 50 appearances for him are booked, if he should be incapacitated or die previous to the first concert, Cort & Kronberg will receive $2,000 for each of the 50 bookings, or $100,000 total.

FOREIGN COMMERCE EXCEEDS ALL RECORDS.

Once more the foreign commerce of the United States has passed all previous records. For the 12 months ended with August the combined exports and imports amounted to $3,013,-317,633. Never before in the history of the nation has the trade for a single year passed the three billion mark. In the last fiscal year, it is true, the foreign trade, together with the trade with the non-contiguous portions of the country, passed that mark, but the insular possessions cannot properly be regarded as foreign.

The figures for the year ended with August, just compiled by the bureau of statistics, show the exports to have amounted to $1,759,417,898 and the imports to $1,254,399,735, truly remarkable figures when contrasted with those of certain earlier periods. For instance, it was not until 1900 that the foreign commerce of the United States passed the $2,000,000,000 line, having thus increased 50 per cent since 1899. It was not until 1880 that it first crossed the $1,500,000,000 line, having thus doubled since 1879. It was not until 1872 that the foreign trade reached $1,000,000,000, having thus trebled since 1871. It was not until 1856 that the total crossed the $500,000,000 line, and only in 1835 that it first reached $250,000,000.

Lincoln Independent Club Organized at Bristol.

Scientific Library Promised to Brown University—New Providence Pier.

An organization, to be known as the Bristol Lincoln Independent Club, was formed at Bristol last evening for the purpose of furthering the candidacy of Colonel Robert H. I. Goddard for the United States Senate. About 30 voters were present, only two of them having previously been Democrats, and the club was formally organized. They will enter into the full campaign at once, with the hope of nominating and electing to the state senate and house of representatives their independent candidates, who will then support Colonel Goddard. It was decided to elect a president, two vice presidents, a secretary and a treasurer, but at the meeting last evening only the secretary was chosen, the choice in this case falling upon William P. Croff. Plans were talked over for the campaign. The club will seek to enlist its members from the voters in the district, regardless of previous party affiliations. Suitable quarters are to be secured soon and an active campaign will be carried on.

Word has been received by President Faunce of Brown University that provision has been made for the addition in the future of one of the most extensive, exhaustive and valuable scientific libraries in the world to the college library. In a recent letter received from Elmer E. Corthell of New York the latter informs President Faunce that he has made provision in his will that at his death his entire scientific library of several thousand volumes will become the possession of the Brown library. President Faunce states, "This is one of the most valuable private collections of scientific works in the world. Mr. Corthell is a member of one 16 scientific bodies, engineering and geographical, and all the translations of the proceedings of those societies in various languages are included in this library." The donor, Mr. Corthell, is a graduate of Brown University in the class of 1867, and the record of his achievements in his chosen line of work is a long one.

The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company has received permission of the harbor commission to build a monster wharf between the Wilkesbarre pier and the marine railway, on the east side of the Providence river, for the purpose of increasing its already extensive docking facilities there. It already has two well equipped wharves connected by rail, used in its coal shipping business. The new wharf, which will adjoin the dry dock property and be separated only by a slip of ordinary width from the Wilkesbarre pier, will extend out to the east side of the harbor line and will cover the slats completely, making a considerable advance in the plan for a complete system of wharves and slips along the entire water front above Field's Point. The projected pier will be about 900 feet long, according to the plan, and about 300 feet wide on the outer end. The space inside the rip-rap work will be filled with dredged material. It is expected that the work will be commenced at once.

Mistaking the distance from the centre of the highway while traveling over a strange road in the dusk, Eugene H. Vieh, proprietor of the Park Hotel, New Bedford, ran his 30 horsepower automobile against a curbstone and then collided with an electric feed wire pole on Silver Spring street, Providence, last evening. Frank E. Demers and Lawrence J. Durante, both members of the New Bedford police force, were thrown headlong against the curbing with such violence that they sustained fractured skulls and will die. Even if Demers had a fighting chance to recover from the injury to his skull, his left chest is so badly crushed that he cannot survive that hurt. Both are at the Rhode Island Hospital, where Durante was operated upon. Each has a family.

After nearly four hours consideration of the models and designs submitted by about a dozen well known artists, including several from Rhode Island, the Vicksburg Monument Commission decided not to accept any of the models in their present stage and adjourned last night without decision. The commission, which comprises three members of the Seventh Rhode Island volunteers, has had several meetings, but each has proved without definite result. The members of this body are Judge Nathan B. Lewis of West Kingston, William P. Hopkins of Lawrence, Mass., and Elisha C. Knight of Providence. Apparently the members of the commission were divided over the propriety of accepting the Elwell design, "The Flag," or the portrait statue of the regimental commander, Colonel Bliss. The division was so marked that the matter was discussed from several phases, and it was ultimately decided that none of the models were entirely satisfactory in their present form and further time will be taken to see how far the competitors will submit to alterations to suit the views of the committee.

At the request of Postmaster Sellew, the Providence postoffice has been ordered by the President to discontinue the use of back stamp cancellation on letters October 1. The innovation is at the request of Mr. Sellew, who thinks that from two to three hours can be saved by so doing, and the delivery of letters accordingly hastened. By this system he thinks the general efficiency of the office will be aided and the work done with greater speed and satisfaction. Already three cities, New York, Boston and Chicago, have tried the expedient and found that it works well. Three others, St. Louis, Richmond, Va., and Albany, will discontinue the use of the stamp October 1, and make reports to First Assistant Postmaster General Hitchcock as to the benefits derived.

Terribly burned as the result of the accidental overturning of a lighted oil stove, Mrs. Edith Mott, wife of John Mott of Pawtucket, died late yesterday afternoon at the Twin City Hospital in Pawtucket after suffering indescribable agony. The accident occurred while Mrs. Mott was preparing dinner at noon. The first known of her accident was when she rushed out of her home screaming with pain with her clothing all ablaze.

Mrs. Sarah Brayton of Phenix, who was 73 years old Sunday, celebrated her birthday by making her first trip beyond the borders of her native state. In company with her daughter, granddaughter and great-grand-daughter she left Phenix early in the day and went by trolley to Taunton, Mass. On her return from her nearly 50-mile trip she was less fatigued apparently than some of the younger members of the party who had planned the little excursion.

Frank J. Barnes, who died Sunday at his home in Westerly, was a veteran of the Civil war, having served two years in the First Massachusetts cavalry. He partook in Sheridan's famous ride at Cedar Creek and was at the Battle of Shiloh under Gen. Grant. He was a member of Rudlong Post for 13 years and for the past two years had been commander of that body.

JAMESON NAMED FOR GOVERNOR.

Platform Adopted Deals With State Issues.

Democratic Convention in Concord Harmonious.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 25.—The Democrats of New Hampshire nominated Nathan C. Jameson of Antrim as their candidate for governor at the state convention held here today and adopted a platform dealing exclusively with state issues. The convention was not fully attended, 667 delegates out of 809 entitled to seats being present.

The platform adopted demanded legislation to abolish the use of railroad passes by legislators on penalty of forfeiture of their office and direct election of United States Senators and state railroad and insurance commissioners.

The convention was in session about two hours, and the deliberations were harmonious and very quiet in comparison with the proceedings at the Republican convention held in the same hall a week ago.

The state convention assembled in Phenix hall, this city, this morning, with a large attendance of delegates and a few spectators in the galleries. Major Thomas H. Madigan, Jr., of Concord, chairman of the Democratic state committee, rapped to order at 11:15 o'clock.

In his introductory remarks he contrasted the present convention with the "noise, brawl and fraud" of a week ago in the same hall, and characterized the platform then adopted, by the Republican state convention, as "political grand larceny." His prediction that the convention of today would name the next governor of New Hampshire was greeted with loud applause.

The officers of the convention recommended by the caucus of Monday evening were adopted by the convention without change. Michael Meehan of Concord, president of the convention, in taking the chair, made an address.

Mr. Meehan gave his address with good effect and drew occasional applause, particularly with his reference to the ward four caucus in Concord; to the "auction sale" Republican convention; the dawning of a brighter day for Democracy; H. M. Putney's portrait; William J. Bryan; and government by commissions. Long continued applause followed his closing words.

The committee on credentials, through their chairman, William J. Starr of Manchester, reported 667 delegates present out of 809 entitled.

The committee on resolutions, through its chairman, John B. Nash of Conway, made its report. Henry H. Metcalf of Concord moved to amend by striking out the endorsement of local option. The amendment was referred to the committee on resolutions. Mr. Metcalf further moved to amend by adding a declaration in favor of equal suffrage. This motion was opposed by John B. Nash of Conway, who moved its reference to the committee on resolutions. It was so voted. The report of the committee on resolutions was then accepted in its entirety.

Clarence E. Carr of Andover delivered a long and carefully prepared speech upon the issues of the campaign, concluding with the nomination as the party's candidate for governor of Nathan C. Jameson of Antrim. The mention of Mr. Jameson's name was heartily greeted. Ex-Mayor Jeremiah J. Doyle of Nashua seconded the nomination of Mr. Jameson. Judge John F. Bartlett of Manchester moved to nominate Mr. Jameson by acclamation. John H. Dowd of Portsmouth objected to such action and placed in nomination Mayor W. E. Marvin of Portsmouth. Mr. Marvin, who was on the platform as a member of the committee on resolutions, absolutely refused to allow the use of his name. The motion of Judge Bartlett then prevailed and Mr. Jameson was nominated by acclamation. The chair named as a committee to escort Mr. Jameson to the hall Mayor Marvin, Mayor Eugene E. Reed of Manchester and David E. Murphy of Concord.

Mr. Jameson was born in Cambridgeport, Mass., May 4, 1849, and has retired from business, having been formerly a manufacturer and wholesaler of hats in Boston and New York. For some years past he has resided in Antrim and has served as a Democrat in both branches of the New Hampshire legislature. He has a family of three sons and one daughter, the oldest son, John E. Jameson, being the secretary of today's convention.

Mr. Jameson spoke briefly in accepting the nomination, expressing his approbation of the platform adopted and pledging himself to enforce the laws now upon the statute book and to veto any that may be passed by the legislature through the influence of a corrupt lobby.

After repeated calls Mayor Eugene E. Reed of Manchester addressed the convention briefly, pledging to the nominee a majority in the city of Manchester.

The convention then adjourned.

ABSENT FROM HOME AND DUTY.

Chief Master-at-Arms Paulina has been absent from his duty at the Training Station without leave since Saturday, and absent from his home in this city since he left for the Station Friday morning. Many rumors are current regarding the reason for his absence. His wife of less than a year, when seen this morning, admitted hearing the stories but deemed it best to say no more at present. Her mother offered the information that the absence from home of Mr. Albert J. Palmer, that being the name under which the marriage took place, is unexplained at present, but until they have something more substantial upon which to form an opinion they were not disposed to believe that the gossip which they heard was true. That he had left the city was unknown to them, except for what they were told by a friend.

Inquiry of Captain Sawyer at the Training Station fails to substantiate any of the rumors, as all that he is disposed to say at present is that Paulina is absent from duty. It is known, though, that Captain Sawyer consulted Mrs. Palmer Sunday. The police this morning received notice of a reward for Paulina from the Training Station, which has been issued in advance of the usual time for offering rewards.

HEARST HISSED BY REPUBLICANS.

out the name of William R. Hearst, a hiss started. When the speaker demanded to know what such a man as Mr. Hearst could have in common with the laboring man, a young man interrupted to exclaim "He sacrificed all."

A little later the same young man cried out "He sacrificed $15,000,000."

"Sit down. Put him out," delegates all over the hall began to shout.

A policeman came forward and the young man was escorted from the hall. Mr. Driscoll finished speaking at 1:35 p. m., and the usual routine resolutions were adopted.

A motion by Charles Anderson, a colored delegate from New York city, deputy collector of internal revenue, and a member of the Republican state committee, denouncing mob violence and lynching and demanded equal protection for all races, was adopted by unanimous consent.

The convention then took a recess until 11 a. m. tomorrow, and the chairman declared adjournment at 1:10 p. m.

CONVENTION IN INFANTRY HALL.

State Republicans to Meet in Providence October 11.

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 25.—The Republican state and central committees met today and called the convention for the nomination of the state ticket for October 11. The committee then issued a call for all caucuses for the election of delegates to this convention to be held not later than October 9. The convention will be held at 10 a. m. in Infantry hall, and an hour later nominations from the First and Second Congressional districts will be made.

Acknowledge Bryan as Democratic Leader.

HONOLULU, Sept. 25.—The Democratic territorial convention in its platform declares that W. J. Bryan is the acknowledged leader of the party. After expressing approval of the Roosevelt administration the Home Rulers endorse George R. Carter, the present incumbent, for governor general.

—DeBlois & Eldridge have rented for Mrs. E. J. Denner her cottage on the corner of Red Cross avenue and Old Beach road to Charles F. Pond of New York for one year.

—Arrivals at the Perry House include J. Menderson and Edgar Menderson of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith and Benjamin Wilbur of Boston and T. D. DeCoster and S. M. Riviiz of Quincy, Mass.

—The owner of the J. A. C. is not satisfied with the result of the recent race with the Madge, and it is now proposed to have another race between these two boats, the course to be to Dyer's Island and return.

—Mr. William S. Nichols of New York and the Misses Nichols are at Bowler's, 113 Touro street. Mr. Nichols is son of Mr. Walter Nichols of Brooklyn, and grandson of the late William S. Nichols, a noted silversmith of former days.

—C. H. Wrightington has rented for Amos W. Hazard a cottage in the rear of 71 Thames street, to Wm. F. Harris, and for Miss Helen L. O'Flaherty of New York the upper flat in her house at 35 Brewer street to Mrs. Annie Reed.

—Though the fishermen hereabouts are doing little, 240 barrels of fish were shipped from here last night. Of these, 90 came from Block Island. To-night the Fisheries Company will ship about 125 barrels of scup, and with the pleasant weather which has prevailed it would not be surprising to have 150 barrels from Block Island by the boat this afternoon.

—Frank Daniels, the well known comedian, is booked for the Opera House next Tuesday evening, October 2, in his successful musical comedy, "Sergeant Brue," which is this week closing a long engagement at the Hollis Street Theatre, Boston. "Sergeant Brue" is said to give Mr. Daniels one of the best characters he has ever displayed, that of an English police sergeant.

—Seaman William Standard of torpedo boat Wilks went into Read & Draper's saloon on Thames street last night and tried hard to clean out the place. He was successful until the arrival of Officer Newton. The officer and the sailor had a slugging match, in which the sailor was worsted and then arrested. In the police court today the sailor was fined $5 and costs for assaulting the officer.

—A shed has been constructed outside Chemical Station No. 2, in which the exercise wagon is to be kept. The election day fittings, which have in the past been stored in the cellar, have been placed in the shed, where they will be kept in better condition. With the Chemical now stationed in this house, and Truck 2 at the Fourth Ward polling place, it begins to look as though the time was at hand when different arrangements must be made for election days.

WANTS TO GO BACK TO CHICAGO.

Stensland Subjected to Various Police Examinations.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Paul O. Stensland, the former president of the Milwaukee State Bank of Chicago, who returned from Morocco, last night, a prisoner on the charge of wrecking the institution, spent a sleepless and a weary night in a bedless cell. He was in a condition of semi-prostration as he tottered rather than walked from his cell to the various offices, where he was subjected to the customary police examinations.

It was planned to remove Stensland during the forenoon to the office of the district attorney, where the formalities incident to his removal to Chicago were to be carried out. Stensland during the night told one of the officers who was watching him that he wanted to go back to Chicago. "There is a good deal behind this case," Stensland said, "and I want to show the public that I am not the black sheep I have been painted."

Shortly after 10 o'clock Stensland left police headquarters and went to the criminal court building. Assistant District Attorney Lockwood waived the rights of the state of New York to hold Stensland and formally turned him over to Detective Sergeant Joseph L. Kinder of Chicago.

Stensland made a voluntary statement to Police Inspector McLaughlin today. He said:

"I made some bad investments, and they did not act so quickly as I thought they would. They were not paying. The man under me—the cashier I mean—took advantage of the situation, and he got more than I. All I got was $650,000, but I don't know what the other man got. The money I went away with was a few thousand dollars that I made in a real estate speculation last summer. I had been always in hope of paying the money back, but I suppose all is lost. I am suffering from asthma. I want to get back to Chicago just as quickly as possible."

Stensland signed a waiver of his extradition rights and put his signature to a document which set forth that his removal from New York state was not under duress. The party then left the building.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The regular monthly meeting of the town council and court of probate was held yesterday afternoon in the town hall, all of the members being present except John E. Brayman.

The following bills were allowed and ordered paid: Alvin H. Perkham, labor, $3; H. P. Brown, express, $1.25; George W. Peckham, Jr., watering streets, $20.57; Peckham Bros., roller, $7; George H. West, carriage hire, $2.25; J. G. Stevens, supplies, $55.21; Elijah Auchuay, services on liquor case, $17.15; Dr. E. C. Ballard, services, $3.25; George H. Pettis, supplies, $4.95; T. T. Flanan, advertising, $3.75; Jamestown Improvement Society, $200; George H. Wales, salary, $60; I. C. Mosher, salary, $60; Charles T. Fletcher, salary, $57.50; Mercury Publishing Co., tax books, etc., $63.75; H. E. Hull, labor, $5.50; George Howland, labor, $16.08; William P. Caswell, salary, $131.53; Jamestown Brass Band, $150; Robert E. Sherman, salary, $15; William P. Davis, labor, $55.72; L. C. Hammond, labor, $2.60; N. S. Littlefield & Son, carriage hire, $1.

The bill of H. P. Brown of $3 for the use of team was referred.

The bill of Charles Smile of $16.50 for damage done by dogs was ordered paid according to law.

A petition of Eliza S. Walker for the remission of tax on $400 for the years 1905 and 1906 was granted and tax remitted.

The meeting of the council as a board of canvassers was fixed for Friday evening, November 2, 1906, at 7:30 o'clock, at the town clerk's office.

Gideon Lathan was appointed a committee to make necessary repairs to the board walk in front of the library, and to the building in which the road machine is stored.

The report of the custodian of the town's team was received and placed on file.

A letter of thanks was received from the Shiloh Baptist Church, for the use of the town hall during the summer for religious services.

Messrs. Charles Fletcher, S. M. Vose, R. Lincoln Lippitt and C. H. Beach, property owners at Conanicut Park, were present at the meeting to bring before the council plans and specifications for the repair of the steamboat wharf at the Park. No action was taken on the matter, as neither the dock nor the road approaching it are public property. The petitioners were under the impression that the wharf could be taken by the town by the abutters' act. The roadway could undoubtedly be taken under this law, but the council was in doubt as to its applying to the wharf, so after thorough investigation will notify the petitioners at some future date before taking action on the matter.

In the court of probate the petition of H. T. Knowles, one of the executors of the will of William H. Knowles, to sell certain personal property at private sale or at public auction was granted, with the proviso that if sold at private sale the same shall be sold for not less than inventory price.

The will of John J. Lee was proved and ordered recorded and Marietta Lee appointed executor.

Mr. J. M. Whitall and family will leave tonight for their home in Philadelphia.

Mrs. W. H. Allen of New York, who formerly resided here, is in town today calling on friends.

Mr. C. H. Bailey and family will close their cottage on Shoreby Hill tonight and return to their home in St. Louis.

Mr. George D. Anthony has commenced work on a large addition to Mr. G. B. Stearn's summer cottage on Greene lane.

Steamer Frank Jones of the New Line to New York, left a heavy consignment of freight here this morning.

Mr. Charles Littlefield and family of Block Island are guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Littlefield at The Gardner House.

Plans for the Work of the Coming Year in the Various Departments.

The Senior gymnasium class will have an evening of "fun and frolic" Monday, October 1, to open the season's work. After a class drill, there will be games and amusing contests. It will be "ladies' night" and a large number of the members' friends are expected to be present. Physical Director Caswell is well in planning for a large number planning for many gymnastic and athletic contests the coming season. Many old members who have not been in the gymnasium for several years have signified their intention of coming back, and there is every prospect of a large number of new members entering the Association.

The question of basket ball is unsettled, but there will undoubtedly be many games within the membership. The gymnasium management will be governed by the desire of the members in all matters pertaining to basket ball.

There will be another meeting of the bowling committee this evening, to finish the winter schedule. Many thought there would be an increase in the interest in bowling if the old teams were broken up, but the majority of the leaders decided that they would like to have the teams kept together as nearly as possible. The tournament will open October 15 and there will be match games at least three nights a week.

The Boys' Department opening will take place Friday evening, with an entertainment in the gymnasium by Dudley Prescott, a humorist and ventriloquist from Boston, and some local talent. The boys will be given an opportunity to meet their new secretary, Mr. Alfred S. Compton, who will give a brief talk outlining the plans of the department for the coming year.

The religious work committee has secured an attractive list of speakers for the opening series of men's meetings. October 7 Messrs. Teller and Merideth, musical evangelists, who will have charge of the music of the coming Sunday School convention, will speak. October 14 Henry G. Cole, author of "Confessions of an American Opium Eater," will tell the story of his redemption, in an address on "Gambling, Alcoholism and Opium." Mr. Cole gave this address before the Fall River Association last season and it was one of the most inspiring and helpful of the year.

W. S. Andrews, special secretary of the Brooklyn Naval Association, who was successful in his series of meetings at the Association last winter and who spoke at the Training Station and the forts, will be in Newport the last two weeks of October, and besides addressing many special meetings for soldiers and sailors is expected to appear before one or more audiences of local people. As a result of Mr. Andrews's meetings last year several members united with various churches.

THE MIDDLETOWN NOMINATION PAPERS.

The nomination papers of the Middletown Citizens' Association were not filed with the secretary of state yesterday, as one of the leaders of the party announced. Today it is reported that the papers were sent to Providence and found to be defective, in that they did not name a party which they were to represent. Colonel Howard B. Peckham states today that he has possession of the papers and that no attempt was made yesterday to file them, but that they will be filed in due time. He also says that he was talking over the telephone with Secretary of State Bennett regarding the papers this morning.

TO GO TO CUBA.

Fifty Marines With Ten Officers to Leave the Training Station Tonight.

Orders were received at the Training Station this morning for 50 privates and 10 non-commissioned officers from the marine corps to leave tonight for the League Island navy yard to join the marine battalion being made up there for duty in Cuba. This draft will reduce the force at the station about one half and will include almost all the old-time men on duty there. The station has been run with a short guard until recently, when men were sent up from Panama to recuperate, and now to take so many away leaves the guard short again.

GIVE EMPLOYES A DAY OF REST.

Although the railroads of France are specifically excepted from the operation of the Sunday rest law, the chairmen of the leading six railroad companies have informed the minister of public works that they have arranged to grant, within 18 months, 52 holidays a year to their entire staffs. In all 250,000 men. The chairmen pointed out that it was impossible to make this day of rest fall on Sunday, but that it would be given to the different men in rotation.

HIGGINS DECLINES HONOR.

Says He Has Not Sought and Will Not Accept Re-Nomination.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 24.—"I have not sought and will not accept a renomination," says Governor Higgins, in a statement issued from the executive chamber this afternoon. This phrase closed a statement in which he explains his reasons, and after declaring that the party is in an admirable condition, says:

"Two years ago I began my campaign with the pledge that I would, if elected, have an administration of my own. I have kept that pledge. By doing so, I have met opposition from those who believe that governors and legislators are safer public servants when they follow the guidance of a party boss than when they think for themselves and act on their own responsibility. I have incurred the displeasure of others who might have been friendly had I become their follower and sought the editorial sanction for counsel and advice. But the party in its primaries has endorsed my administration throughout the state and elected delegates favorable to my renomination.

"I have long been conscious of the fact that the office has been exacting from me sacrifices that I can ill afford. I feel the need for rest and attention to my personal affairs. The result of the contest in the primaries for the principle of executive independence has given courage to all who believe that the governor should not be the puppet of the party organization, and hope to all who deplore the supremacy of irresponsible political absolutism.

"It also leaves me free to gratify my personal inclination with honor and to withdraw my name from further consideration. I have no fear of the result. When the party enters the campaign in so wholesome a condition the hosts of Hearst cannot prevail against it.

"I have not sought and shall not accept a renomination."

"It's in the air" is the answer most frequently given tonight to questions concerning the governorship nomination of the Republican state convention. The refusal of Governor Higgins to accept a renomination has unsettled things and now all efforts are being put forth by the leaders to ferret out new lines and to secure a ticket which can be nominated by acclamation. Harmony is being preached and harmony means a "slate" without a disturbance in the convention.

With a degree of earnestness which had been lacking until the action of the governor was known, the leaders have set to work on their task. The outlook is that it may be some time before definite results are accomplished. At least the conferences will continue tonight, tomorrow and probably tomorrow night. It is hinted that an agreement may be delayed until something definite is heard from Buffalo.

PORTSMOUTH.

(Regular correspondence of the News.)

Mr. Edward G. Boyd, a well known resident of the west side of this town, died yesterday at his home on the West Main road. He had been in poor health for a long time, following a case of typhoid fever, but of late his condition had so improved that his friends looked for his early recovery. Mr. Boyd was a son of the late Leander Boyd, who operated the windmill on the West Main road for many years, being succeeded by his two sons, who have continued the business under the firm name of Boyd Brothers. The Boyd corn meal has been for many years famous for its excellent qualities, not only on the island but in other places, and the old mill has long been a feature of the landscape along the West road. Mr. Boyd, who was 49 years old, leaves a widow and one daughter.

Saturday afternoon, between 3:30 and 4 o'clock, an unusually fine-looking man, well dressed and agreeable in his manners, called at Mrs. A. L. Pepple's, whose cottage is next to the Bristol Ferry railway station, and asked to be served with dinner. The lateness of the hour forbade this, but lunch was served. After eating he asked for a place to wash and was shown into an adjoining room, in which besides the usual sleeping room furniture was a writing desk. The length of his stay caused some comment, and after 15 minutes had passed Mrs. Pepple looked in and saw him standing at one end of the desk in the corner, combing his hair with her comb. He apologized for using it and soon afterward took his departure with many pleasing expressions, remarking that he should "certainly come again soon," and left on the Providence boat. The next day, Sunday, at about the same hour, Mrs. Pepple took the desk key from its hiding place behind a picture on the wall above the desk, and opened it, to find that $155 in new $5 bills had been taken out of her pocket book, the thief afterwards locking the desk and putting the key in its usual place. Officer Reilly was summoned and notified the chiefs of police in several cities, but so long a time had elapsed and the description was so meagre that it might fit hundreds of traveling men, so that but little hope is given of the detection of the thief. The bills were all of one [illegible], and had just been drawn. The loss falls heavily upon one who had worked hard to earn it.

Mrs. George H. Sisson has been a guest at Elm farm for a few days.

Mrs. Mary E. Almy, who has been visiting relatives here for the past fortnight, returned home to Fall River Sunday.

The Rhode Island Monthly Meeting of the Society of Friends will be held at Newport Thursday morning.

A change in the time table of the Newport & Fall River road will begin Wednesday, the car leaving [illegible] on the [illegible] time.

A large number of persons from [illegible] and Portsmouth went to [illegible] Monday night to see Maxine Elliott and were greatly disappointed not to be able to stay (those living on the Fall River line) to see [illegible]. The theatre [illegible] is so early for the [illegible] that it prevents many [illegible] 11:30 [illegible] patrons.

Rev. [illegible] and family [illegible] this week and Mr. J. [illegible] at St. Mary's next Sunday. They left Sugar Loaf, N. H. last week for Cambridge, Mass.

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was.

Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Dandruff, Falling Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state.

STENSLAND MAKES CONFESSION.

Implicates Many Prominent Chicago Men in Connection With Failure.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Formally under arrest by New York detectives, Paul O. Stensland, former president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank, Chicago, who stands indicted for heavy embezzlements from that institution, arrived in New York tonight. He was taken from steamer Prinz Adalbert, on which he came from Morocco, to which country he had fled after the wrecking of the bank.

Stensland has made a complete confession, according to Assistant State's Attorney Harry Olsen of Chicago, who went to Tangier to take the former bank official into custody, and in his confession he implicated other prominent Chicago men. Attorney Olsen declined to name these men.

Theodore Stensland, who gave out an official statement for his father, declared that the latter had made no signed confession, but that he had admitted committing certain offences which constitute embezzlement under the Illinois laws. To some of the indictments for embezzlement his father would plead guilty, he said, and in the case of others he would turn state's evidence and implicate all those who should be indicted in connection with the failure of the bank.

FOUND AN INFERNAL MACHINE.

Ingenious Contrivance Intended for Jacob H. Schiff.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—An infernal machine addressed to "Jacob H. Schiff of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., floor of the New York Exchange," was found under a letter box here this morning by a small negro boy, who turned it over to a postman. It was very similar to an infernal machine which was mailed to the office of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. in New York, August 18, last year, the chief difference being that the bomb found this morning was rigged up in a small tin box, while the one which was sent last year was in a wooden box.

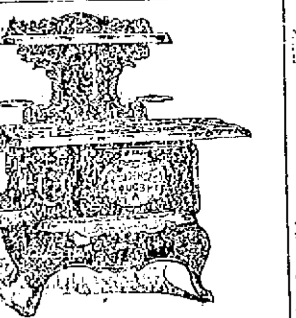

It was about 10 inches long and four inches wide, perhaps an inch and a half high. The sender of the infernal machine had refrained carefully from addressing the package in his own handwriting. He had taken Mr. Schiff's name evidently from a commercial directory of some sort and after the name he had pasted a slip with the printed words "Kuhn, Loeb & Co., floor of the New York Stock Exchange, New York." At one end of the package was pasted a bit of paper with the words "Bon Ami" and a short holiday greeting in Hebrew, the latter phrase having been taken, apparently, from a Jewish newspaper.

A card on which was printed a Jewish New Year's greeting was attached to a string which was tied around the pasteboard box. This string was cleverly attached to a tin box inside the pasteboard box, the tin box being about the same size and shape.

The bottom of the sliding lid of the tin box and the bottom of the box were covered with sandpaper. Ordinary parlor matches were fixed vertically, so that they might be expected to ignite if the lid were moved in its grooves. Guncotton, black powder and handmolded slugs, bullets and buckshot pretty nearly filled up the tin box. Three pasteboard tubes full of powder were placed just under the lid.

The ingenuity of what was rather a crude and bunglesome contrivance lay in the New Year's card attachment. It was so arranged that merely picking up the card, if a slight tug should be given, might be expected to move the slide, light the matches and explode the machine.

CHILD'S AWFUL SKIN HUMOR

Screamed with Pain — Suffering Nearly Broke Parent's Heart — Twelve Years of Misery — Doctor Called Case Incurable — Helped from First, and

SPEEDILY CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I wish to inform you that your wonderful Cuticura has put a stop to twelve years of misery I passed with my son. As an infant I noticed on his body a red spot and treated same with different remedies for about five years, but when the spot began to get larger I put him under the care of doctors. Under their treatment the disease spread to four different parts of his body. The longer the doctors treated him the worse it grew. During the day it would get rough and form like scales. At night it would be cracked, inflamed, and badly swollen, with terrible burning and itching. When I think of his suffering, it nearly breaks my heart. His screams could be heard down stairs. The suffering of my son made me full of misery. I had no ambition to work, to eat, nor could I sleep.

"One doctor told me that my son's eczema was incurable and gave it up for a bad job. One evening I saw an article in the paper about the wonderful Cuticura and decided to give it a trial.

"I tell you that Cuticura Ointment is worth its weight in gold; and when I had used the first box of Ointment there was a great improvement, and by the time I had used the second set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent my child was cured. He is now twelve years old, and his skin is as fine and smooth as silk. (signed) Michael Steinman, 7 Sumner Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., April 16, 1905."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for every Humor, from Pimples to Scrofula, from Infancy to Age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, 25c., Ointment, 50c., Resolvent, 50c. MORE ATLANTA NEGROES KILLED.

Had Fight With Officers in Suburbs of City.

Clark University Students and Professors Seized.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 25.—Two negroes were killed today in a fight with officers. The negroes had barricaded themselves in a house on the edge of the city. The officers were not wounded.

One negro was killed in Brownville, a suburb, by military early today while trying to break through the lines. Two hundred and fifty-seven negroes have already been placed under arrest in Brownville. The majority of them were heavily armed. One other negro tried to get away and was shot. The raid started shortly after 5 o'clock. Negroes were searched and every one armed was placed on the cars to be sent to police barracks. One of the first arrested was L. J. Price, the negro postmaster, who is charged with supplying ammunition to the blacks. Negroes who tried to break through the lines were fired on. Captain Wilson held a conference with the President of Gammon Seminary on the situation. The negroes are hemmed in by militia. Members of the governor's horse guards and mounted county policemen are anxious to avenge the death of Officer Heard and the wounding of other members of the force. The negroes are badly frightened.

Deciding that the negro students, 500 in number, who live in the campus of Clark University, are responsible for an executed the attacks on the officers in South Atlanta last night the military authorities have sent 150 under the command of Colonel Clifford Anderson to the scene. They expect to surround the campus, capture and search all the students and punish the guilty ones.

Following the killing of Policeman Heard last night in South Atlanta, the force which accompanied him and were not disabled in the fight, pursued the negroes. They captured 10 of the negroes. They captured 10 of the Sam McSumder and Wiley Brooks, made a bold dash for liberty. The mob caught them, and the negroes, cut and beaten, were brought to the city in a dying condition. Mrs. R. C. Thompson, who saw the attack upon the negroes, fell dead from heart disease.

Major Williamson, of the state militia, who commanded the raid in Brownville, said:

"Following the attack on a force of county police late last night it was decided to raid what is known as Brownville, including Clark university, an institution for negroes, which has in the past received large support from Northern philanthropists. About 400 negroes were captured, including professors and students of the university and other negroes not connected with the institution. If a prisoner was unable to give a plausible account of himself, or if he was armed, he was arrested and sent to the Fulton county jail. About 100 were so locked up, including the assassin of Policeman Heard, who was killed in the attack on the county police during the earlier part of the night.

STRIKE AT THREAD MILLS.

Girls Employed by J. & P. Coats Demand Increase.

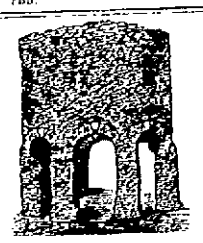

PAWTUCKET, Sept. 25.—Today 500 girl twisters at the thread mills of the J. & P. Coats mills here struck for higher wages. They claim that the back boys who were out on strike a week ago receive $6.50 a week, while the grown women get only 40 or 50 cents a week more. They demand a ten per cent increase. Unless the strike is settled within a few days the entire plant, it is said, employing some 2,500 hands will have to be shut down.

ADDRESSES BY PROMINENT MEN.

New Buildings of Harvard Medical School Dedicated.

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—An event of unusual interest to the medical profession, to all who at any time have been connected with Harvard University and to the general public, was the dedication of the magnificent new buildings of the Harvard Medical School today. From all parts of the country graduates of the school and others prominent in the profession have been coming to this city during the past few days, in preparation for the exercises which are to be held this afternoon on the terrace in front of the Administration building on Longwood avenue, in the Fenway. This group of beautiful white marble buildings is the largest single addition to the resources of Harvard in the history of the university.

The program as arranged consisted of prayer by Rev. Dr. George A. Gordon, pastor of the Old South church; an address on "The Enlarged Foundation" by Dr. John Collins Warren, Moseley professor of surgery at Harvard; presentation of the buildings to the university by Charles Allerton Coolidge, representing the architects; a brief address accepting the buildings by President Charles W. Eliot of Harvard; an address on "The Faculty of Medicine" by Dean W. L. Richardson of the Harvard Medical School; an address on "The Laboratories" by Dr. Thomas Dwight, Parkman professor of anatomy at Harvard; an address on "The Clinics" by Dr. Frederick Cheever Shattuck, Jackson professor of clinical medicine at Harvard, and the dedication of the buildings by President Eliot.

Tomorrow there will be an academic session at Sanders theatre, Cambridge, at which degrees will be conferred upon prominent physicians and surgeons.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25, Wall Street—The stock market opened irregular, with Amalgamated Copper at 114¾, American Locomotive 75, American Smelting 154½, Anaconda 293 to 294½, Atchison 107¾, Baltimore & Ohio 122½, Brooklyn Transit 78, Canadian 178¾, Colorado Fuel & Iron 56½, Erie 47¾, Great Northern preferred 234, Louisville 168½, Missouri Pacific 97¾, Northern Pacific 214¾, Norfolk & Western 93½, Ontario & Western 49¾, Pennsylvania 142¾, Reading 179¾, Rock Island 27¾, Southern Railway 36¾, St. Paul 173¾, Southern Pacific 56¾, Sugar 139½, Union Pacific 187¼, United States Steel 45¾.

The belated selling orders affected some stocks, but the list in general rallied sharply after the first few minutes of business; practically all of the losses were recovered and Reading, Southern Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and several other stocks sold fractionally above yesterday's closing. Some of the specialties moved up strongly. A successful drive was made against the list later, and the market went back to near the opening figures.

Noon: Money on call steady at 5 per cent; prime mercantile paper 6½ to 7 per cent. The general tone was heavy in spite of advances in a few stocks. Canadian Pacific rose 3¾. The selling pressure forced Union Pacific and Reading 1½ under last night, and St. Paul and Atchison 1. Bonds were steady.

TO SEE MAXINE ELLIOTT.

Great Gathering Fills the Opera House and Sees an Excellent Performance.

Newporters were present in large numbers to see Maxine Elliott in the Clyde Fitch play, "Her Great Match," at the Opera House last evening. Everybody went to the theatre with anticipations of a dramatic treat, and no one need have been in the least disappointed in this respect. It was one of those performances which not only please the eye but awaken a pleasurable interest, not only in the star but in the play itself and the supporting company. The house was filled—floor, balcony and gallery. There was not a seat to be had on the floor and every box was occupied. The audience was not especially enthusiastic, but drank in to its satisfaction the story as it was developed and enacted by the thoroughly excellent company. At the end of each act there was a hearty curtain call and at the close of the second Miss Elliott was presented with several beautiful floral tributes.

The company was playing in public for the first time this season, but there was nothing in the performance to evidence this. Everything went along smoothly, and there was little if anything left to be desired. Miss Elliott in the role of "Jo" Sheldon, an American girl who is in love with and is loved by a German prince, is the centre of the stage at all times and her acting does not seem to be acting. She is a true American girl in her spirit, her instincts, her loyalty to her country and to herself. The audience smiles with her, and grieves when she grieves, and in fact is thoroughly wrapt up in every action and impulse of the actress. Hardly less enjoyable was the portrayal by Charles Cherry of the German prince and lover. His broken English was almost perfectly rendered and his every action was that of an impassioned lover.

Second only to the work of the stars was that of Mathilde Cottrelly as the Grand Duchess of Hohenhelm-Stein. Miss Cottrelly has been seen in many excellent characters, but in none has she appeared to better advantage than as the old German duchess, with her love for her nephew and his future running counter to her love for her country and its traditions. Muriel Wolford as the scheming Mrs. Sheldon, was excellent in a character which in itself awakened little sympathy, but gave the actress ample opportunity for the display of her dramatic abilities. Another specially clever piece of character acting was that of Gladys Morris as Countess Chaverell, who although she appeared but once made an individual hit for her easy manner and broken English. The other parts were in capable hands.

The production was well staged and the costumes up-to-date in every particular, Miss Elliott's gowns being elaborate and striking.

"THE COLLEGE WIDOW."

The fame of "The College Widow" has been spread by thousands of New York and Chicago visitors who saw it during its run in those cities. There is little variance of opinion regarding this play, the verdict being that it is one of the cleanest, purest, most wholesomely humorous works of recent years. As presented by Henry W. Savage's company, all that ample equipment can do to enhance its inherent value is looked after. The cast includes Robert Kelly, Joseph Redman, Frank B. LaRue, John P. Brown, John M. Byrnes, Clinton Rackland, Thomas H. Hoier, Florence Huntington, Bessie Tozer, Patty Allison and Florence Auer.

"THE OLD HOMESTEAD."

Denman Thompson's ever popular "Old Homestead" is in its twentieth annual tour. The breath of the meadows and the scent of the pines is in the play, and the quaint sayings and doings of the country farm folk are distinctly pictured in its various characters. The mention of the names of Joshua Whitcomb, Cy Prime, Seth Perkins, Aunt Matilda, Eb Ginsey, Rickety Ann and Happy Jack is sufficient to bring to mind all those interesting rural characters, and at the same time arise in the background pictures of the old farm, the homestead in Swanzey, Grace Church on Broadway, New York, and the aristocratic mansion of Henry Hopkins, the metropolitan merchant and millionaire. The double quartet is still retained as a feature of the production.

AN INDIAN PLAY.

Ramsey Morris's play, "The Ninety and Nine," while not a religious play, as its title might suggest, carries a moral story which teaches a strong temperance lesson. Founded as it is in a country town of the middle West its pretty love story, with its intrigues, plots and counter-plots, carries a wholesome air of the flower-laden prairies of Indiana, and coupled with the art of the stage builder the show is one of the good offerings of the season. The original New York production will be used in Newport.

THE DAHLIA EXHIBIT.

When the Newport Horticultural Society held its annual exhibition in August, many of the gardeners found that, owing to the wet weather of the early summer, their flowers were not far enough advanced to make the showing for which they wished and the display of dahlias was unusually small. Now the society has arranged a supplementary exhibition, at which opportunity will be given for growers of dahlias and other flowers and plants to compete for the prizes given by the society. The exhibit will not be confined to members of the society.

THE NEWPORT HEBREWS.

Devotional Activity of the Local Community.

Discourses by Rabbi Rosengard During the Solemn New Year Festival.

The advent of the Jewish New Year, which was ushered in last Thursday, marked an epoch in the annual history of this people. The Hebrew calendarial system admits of a twofold new year.

Tishri, corresponding with parts of September and October in the civil year, marking, according to traditional lore, the inception and creation of this nether world. The creation whilo was completed and perfected with unerring wisdom and precision by the omniscient architect of all phenomena of nature.

Nisan, which coincides with parts of March and April, is the commencement of the ecclesiastical year, being commemorative of the great exodus from the Egyptian bondage, when ancient Israel first inhaled the exhilarating breath of freedom. A staggering blow was then given by miraculous processes and direct divine intervention, to the unholy, pernicious and reprehensible traffic in human slavery. The power of the Pharaohs was irretrievably shattered, the reign of terror and iniquity terminated, and eternal righteousness and perfect human equality substituted.

Nisan, furthermore, witnessed the gradual introduction and initiation of ancient and erstwhile enslaved Israel to the systematic observance of the Torah or the laws (negative and affirmative) comprised in the Pentateuch. This was the sole reason and raison d'etre of their emancipation. The Deity planned the establishment of a perpetual priestly order, by means of which the kingdom of righteousness shall be the dominant factor on earth, influencing men's passions and motives. If the mortal propensities are to be curbed and effectually deprived of their harmful elements, there was needed an antidote acting as a permanent deterrent. Hence the acceptance by the ancient Hebrews of the Sinaitic dispensation constituted a perfect justification of their manumission. For them, and them only, will they merit the enviable designation of a kingdom of Priest and a holy nation.

The Hebrew devotional prayers and poetic liturgy are beautiful beyond compare. They have from time immemorial been an unfailing source of inspiration to that nation. During their long and protracted martyrdom, in periods during which untold indignities were heaped upon them by their dominant neighbours, the Hebrew invariably found consolation and nourishment for his famished soul and drooping spirit in the lofty and inspiring compositions extant within the covers of his prayer book. The beauty and sublimity of the Jewish rubric needs no emphasizing nor insistence. It embraces poetry of a high-soaring nature; skillful rhyme, acrostic, rhapsody, and word painting of an entrancing character. These are among the inexpressibly grand intellectual legacies bequeathed to the Hebrew people by those great men who occupy a large and honored page in history.

The cosmopolitan character of the Jewish race, and their admirable philanthropies, are due to the fact of the reiterated instruction, imparted to them by their legislators, priests and prophets of old, to regard the whole human family as fully worthy of their solicitude and affection. Hence the amor patriae of the Jewish fraternity is undoubted, and constitutes one of their brightest virtues.

Rev. B. H. Rosengard, the rabbi, officiated at the synagogue last week and preached four impressive sermons. Wednesday evening he delivered an introductory discourse on the significance of the New Year, which is also known as the Day of Judgment, the Day of Memorial and the Day of Sounding the Ram's Horn.

Thursday the pastor discoursed from the text in Deuteronomy XXIX:9: "Ye stand this day all of you before the Lord your God; your chiefs of your tribes, your elders and your officers, even all the men of Israel." In this significant verse, the preacher said, is contained, clearly and unequivocally, the whole duty of man, and the glowing reward that is to follow the cheerful compliance with the divine mandates. To stand erect and confident before the great judge of the universe is the privilege of an upright, consistent man, one who can look back with a glow of pride on the the faultlessness of his career and the prudence and discretion which have distinguished his speech and deeds.

The great Law, of which we are the custodians, makes large demands upon us. But they are reasonable and by no means exacting demands, as they are conducive to our moral and physical well-being and redound to our lasting honor and renown. For, just as there is a self-evident distinction between light and darkness, so is wisdom distinguished from folly and sin, and piety from ungodliness. Our text is then exceedingly instructive, inasmuch as it conveys to us a warning and monition, that the privilege of standing before God (the Shechinah or divine effulgence) is accorded to those only who shrink from no effort to do the will of their Creator, to those who cheerfully practice self-effacement in order to attain unto perfection.

Three salutary lessons are derivable from the text. There we have the principle of our equality before God, who permits no special privileges to those endowed with earthly and transitory abundance. The power of the purse has no weight and purchases no immunity on the day of judgment. The man holding a fine position in society cannot plead extenuating circumstances for his guilt. Just and condign punishment must be meted out to those who deviate from the paths of rectitude and probity.

The significant phrase, "Your chiefs of your tribes, your elders, even all the men of Israel," implies the doctrine of mutual responsibility. All the community of Israel are in a large measure answerable for the dereliction of duty and backsliding of a brother and sister in the faith. Take the case of Achan, the son of Carmi (as narrated in the fourth chapter of Joshua), whose ill-guided action in appropriating for his personal advantage the forbidden spoil of Jericho brought disaster upon the whole people of Israel. And, on the other hand, the whole community receives a measure of commendation for the goodness and virtue of the pious and good man.

Our text enjoins the desirability of union, which is strength. The Supreme Intelligence admonishes us thus: If we stand this day all of you in accord and perfect union, knowing no difference, allowing our conflicting opinions and personal matters to sink, furthering the peace and welfare and maintaining the solidarity of the whole community, then will our united prayers ascend heavenward and effect their high purpose.

Those who have the faculty of sight and deliberately close their eyes to stubborn facts are indeed to be pitied. There are those who are favored with a smiling fortune, who have never experienced the pangs of adversity or carking cares. It is this class, far from being happy, who are really suffused with inexplicable misery. Real happiness is a condition of things in which our fellow-men are gladdened and elevated above their daily drudgery and disconcerting monotony of life. But the selfish and weakly man, who argues ingeniously that self-preservation is the first law, and as to the rest let the world perish, such a one is past redemption.

To such, I say, remember your duty to your God and your fellow-men. Remember the great importance and solemnity of the day. Think of the great issues that are involved in today's judgment. Can we secure ourselves against evil and disaster? Remember that all the sciences and our much lauded progress are impotent as compared with the omniscience of God. This is the time to pray devoutly and sincerely. All those whose lot has fallen in unpleasant places, who mourn the irreparable loss of a dear friend; in a word, those who are bowed down to the earth with a sense of overwhelming grief and sorrow, should pour out their heart to God, the just and fatherly judge, appealing to Him for justice and clemency.

The preacher went on to say that the chief features of the day's ceremonial are the Shofar or Ram's Horn, and the three divisions of our additional service. In the first we proclaim the sovereignty and supremacy of the ruler of the whole universe. The second division credits the Almighty with a perfect knowledge of the deeds and thoughts of all generations, past and present, and we attribute to Him also a fore-knowledge of all coming events. The third division speaks of the wondrous scenes enacted on the historic Mount Sinai on the epoch-making occasion of giving the Decalogue amid unparalleled manifestations of spiritual glory. These three divisions typify also the three fundamental principles of Judaism—the existence of God, the divine character of our law, and the doctrine of reward and punishment.

The Ram's Horn has a solemn lesson and warning for us all. It urges us to maintain our fair fame by leading an honorable and judicious life. This instrument appeals to every class to continue preparing for the final call to eternity. May we so regulate our lives that we may never fear the end, when dissolution shall overtake us. Confident that we have done our part manfully and worthily, we shall with equal trust and cheerfulness face the great future, the realms of the spirits, the sphere of immortality.

Saturday last being the Penitential Sabbath, the pastor addressed his congregation on the subject of Hebrew and religious instruction of their young. Rev. Mr. Rosengard characterized this as a supreme duty devolving upon the parents, adding that the preservation of their historic faith is by no means possible unless spiritual provision be made for the young, in whom our dearest hopes and aspirations are centred.

MRS. GEORGE A. ARMSTRONG.

Death of the Last Representative of an Old and Prominent Newport Family.

Mrs. Harriet H. Armstrong, widow of George A. Armstrong, died at her home on Bull street yesterday, from causes incident to old age, at the advanced age of 94. She was the last of a large and in its day a prominent Newport family, being one of 11 children, all of whom were prominent in their time in Newport affairs. Her brothers were George A., Henry B., William W., Arnold W., James L., Simeon, Mumford and Charles T. Hazard, and her sisters Mrs. Matilda Stedman and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilbour, all of whom died at a ripe age. She was married to George A. Armstrong, and had one child, Mr. William A. Armstrong; she had but one grandchild living, Mrs. Mumie Franklin, wife of Judge Franklin.

Mr. Armstrong was a farmer and resided in the old farmhouse which occupied the site now occupied by the C. C. Baldwin villa at Bellevue and Narragansett avenues, and owned quite a lot of land in that section, which he sold for summer cottage sites. He also owned land near Coddington Point, where he managed the farm for a while, and later sold the property to speculators. From then until his death in 1884 he resided on Bull street, where Mrs. Armstrong had since lived, seeing one by one the people whom she knew in her girlhood pass away, until she was one of the very few left.

STATE RIFLE MATCHES.

Annual Competitions for Military Trophies to be Held at Rumford Beginning September 28.

The annual state competition for the military trophies at the state rifle range at Rumford will begin next Friday, September 28, and continue on alternate days for a week, the final match being shot October 5, this being according to general orders No. 13, issued from brigade headquarters, Rhode Island militia.

Two matches have been ordered for the first day, the competitions for the adjutant general's trophy for rifles and General Tanner's trophy for revolvers. On Monday, October 1, the brigade trophy match will be shot, and on Wednesday the regimental tricolor match will come off. The competitions will close Friday, October 5, with the match for the military rifle championship of the state.

As in former years, the trophies for the adjutant general's, General Tanner's and the military rifle championship matches are gold medals and very similar in design to those previously offered. The championship medal is of Roman gold with a green victor's wreath, the letters being in black enamel. The medal given by Adjutant General Sackett is also of Roman gold, with the flags done in red, white and blue enamel. The state shield is in blue enamel and the letters and bull's-eye in black. General Tanner's medal has not yet been made, but will be of gold and enamel.

The brigade trophy, given by the brigadier general and staff, is a handsome silver, gold-lined punch bowl, it stands 10 inches high and is 18 inches across the top. It is in the grape pattern, with leaves and bunches of the fruit around the top and bottom. A ladle goes with the bowl.

The adjutant general's match is open to any officer or enlisted man in the brigade or naval battalion who has never qualified better than a sharpshooter. Seven shots will be fired by each competitor at 200, 300, 500 and 600 yards firing points. Any officer in the brigade may shoot for the General Tanner medal, the conditions being 10 shots with the revolver at 50 yards and 10 shots at 75 yards.

The military rifle championship match is open to all members of the brigade and naval battalion. Seven shots will be fired by each competitor at the 500, 600, 800 and 1,000 yards ranges. The regimental trophy is a tri-color flag, teams of 12 from each regiment of the brigade competing.

Only marksmen of record may enter for the prizes, and no person is eligible who has not performed at least one half of all state duty to which he has been liable during the year, or who has been mustered into service less than two months before the opening of the rifle competition. In addition the men must have qualified this season. Winners of the adjutant general's and military championship medals in former years are debarred from future entry for the medal won, and employes of the range are debarred from firing in any team or individual match.

For the brigade trophy each company in the brigade may enter a team of seven, and the staff and non-commissioned staffs of each regiment and the cavalry battalion may enter a team. Ten shots will be fired by each competitor at each of the 500 and 600 yards ranges.

The competitions will take place on the dates assigned rain or shine. All the trophies become the property of the winners.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Plans for the Twenty-Sixth Annual Meeting, In This City Next Month.

The twenty-sixth annual state convention of the Sunday Schools of Rhode Island will be held in the United Congregational Church in this city, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 9 and 10. This is the first time this body has ever met in Newport. A number of prominent speakers and Sunday School workers will speak during the convention. Mr. Marion Lawrance, international general secretary, will be in attendance both days and lead two conferences. Professor Richard Morse Hodge, D. D., director of the extension course for lay students at the Union Theological Seminary and lecturer in Biblical literature at the Teachers' College, Columbia University, will make two addresses. Miss Marianna C. Brown, Ph. D., of New York, who has given her entire time to the study of childhood and its religious training and is the author of "How to Plan a Lesson," will make an address Tuesday evening, while other specialists in Sunday School work will either conduct conferences or make addresses. Messrs. Tullar and Meredith, well known singers of New York, will have charge of the musical part of the convention.

The tenth annual banquet will be held in the chapel of the United Congregational Church Wednesday, October 10, from 12:30 to 2 o'clock, with a fine program of after-dinner speaking. Delegates will be entertained free of charge in the homes of Newport people.
